BLADE RUNNER

The 21st Century.

Robot design had evolved to the Replidroid Stage – a living android virtually identical to a human droid.

REPLIDROIDS were used off-world as slave labour, in the dangerous exploration and colonisation of other planets.

The STAGE 6 REPLIDROIDS were superior in strength and agility, and at least equal in intelligence, to the genetic engineers who created them.

After a bloody mutiny by a STAGE 6 combat team in an off-world colony, REPLIDROIDS were declared illegal on earth under penalty of death. Police approved special bounty hunter squads – had orders to shoot to kill, upon detection, any trespassing REPLIDROID.

This was not execution. It was called retirement.
