THE SCENE

Far into the future, on Krion, a remote barren planet orbiting a dying Sun, three Mining Engineers discover the remains of a Warrior Robot, just its head — one curious Engineer kicked the head, it began to speak and told a terrible tale of mankind's destruction of Krion. . . .

. . . and then the ground beneath began to vibrate, the dust parted, revealing a smooth artificial surface — and they saw that the Warrior Robot head was attached by thick cables to what they were standing on!

Suddenly the head spoke again, this time of revenge. . . .
