You've made it! As the Rt. Hon. James Hacker, MP, Prime Minister, you've reached the top of the greasy pole. But can you hold on to power?

Your aim is to steer the leaky ship of state through a turbulent week in Westminster. The opinion polls show which way the wind is blowing: will the nation present you with the ultimate accolade, or are you sliding into oblivion?

You have Sir Humphrey and Bernard to advise you, but your decisions are your own. Do you have the ability, the guile and the sheer political will to stay on top?

Will this do? Or should I mention the authentic real-time factors that keep the PM under constant pressure? Bernard

*No. Reassure him by describing the extraordinarily imaginative interactive office environment created on the screen
— he loves gimmicks. Humphrey.*
