Design a program – and win £300 in cash

The Fun School range is the best-selling and most popular educational software on the market – both parents and children alike have testified to its success.

We are always on the lookout for fresh ideas and new programs to interest and educate children, and this is where you come in!

We are especially interested in any ideas you have for educational programs for the 11-14 year age group. This is an area which is seriously lacking in the market, and we are therefore hoping to establish an educationally sound, but captivating range of programs. Graphics are unimportant – what counts is that your idea or program is original, informative, educational, and with an identifiable theme throughout.

Hint:

- ▶ How is each level different? Is the reward routine more fun than failure? – It should be!
- ▶ Use a thesaurus as a source for ideas – or any other idea-generating tool!
- ▶ Test it out on your friends – it should be informative but fun for them too!

You are free to submit as many entries as you wish. All entries should display your name and address, on both the disc and the paperwork. Unsuccessful entries will be returned along with constructive comments, possibly with a view to their re-submission at a later date.

You will receive an initial prize of £300 for each program or idea accepted, plus attractive royalties on all sales of the package – and since the Fun School series has topped the 300,000 mark in the UK market alone, the rewards could be very good!
